Fellows' inaugural Antiques, Silver & Collectables auction

Fellows is delighted to announce its inaugural Antiques, Silver & Collectables auction. This new sale format will see items ranging from silver and medals to furniture and art all in the same auction.

There is something for everyone in this auction with more traditional pieces of art and furniture sitting next to fabulous modern items such as a Lino Sabattini tea service (pictured).

Lots worth noting in this sale include a nest of tables from the famous Mouseman of Kilburn, Robert Thompson, alongside an impressive collection of Lalique glass. In this Lalique collection a few lots are worth looking at more closely, notably the Masque de Femme; a replica Ice Skating Grand Prix ice trophy (pictured) and a glass 'Igor' caviar bowl with stand. As these pieces are relatively modern, it is a great opportunity to acquire good condition Lalique items.

The coins and medals section contains lots that are sure to excite collectors. Particular highlights include a Waterloo Medal awarded for service during the battle as part of the 2nd battalion of the Grenadier Guards and a convict token dating back to 1841 with corresponding paperwork.

Another lot with fine provenance is the Rafael Senet y Pérez Grand Canal oil on canvas (pictured). This artist is well known for his Venetian scenes and this is a fine example of his work. Purchased in the 1970s from Colmore Galleries by a private collector, the gilt frame still retains the gallery's label.

Last, but by no means least, a Royal Copenhagen porcelain lace pattern mantel clock. Following on from the runaway success of the Royal Copenhagen dinner services in the last auction this clock is attracting attention from collectors. It is easy to see why; the clock is in excellent condition.

The auction is available to view online now and in person at the following times:

23 February 2017 10am - 4pm
24 February 2017 10am - 4pm
25 February 2017 11am - 4pm
27 February 2017 8.00am - 9.30am
